DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

The Duchess of Somerset has traveled more than any other titled Englishwoman.

Former Queen Lilianakani of Hawaii will spend the winter in Washington, as has been her custom for some years past.

Many women in the British Islands hunt their own hares, but only one, Miss Edith Somerville, is M. F. H. (master of foxhounds, when the title is borne by a man).

Mrs. Alice Galleher Sessums, wife of Right Rev. David Sessums, bishop of Louisiana, has received from the United States patent office letters covering an improvement upon the bookie.

Eleanora Duse, the famous Italian actress, is peculiarly sensitive and highly strung. When she is not playing or rehearsing she spends her time in perfect rest and lives in almost monklike seclusion. She has a companion who arranges her journeys and engages rooms for her at hotels.

Miss Annie Mittelstaedt, the daughter of a Prussian officer, recently received the degree of Ph. D. at the University of Heidelberg. Her dissertation was on "The War of 1859, Bismarck and Public Opinion in Germany"—a queer subject for a woman, a German newspaper remarks.

Mrs. Clarence Mackay, the wife of the young California millionaire, is an omnivorous reader and persistently turns a deaf ear to social demands that interfere with her daily period of devotion to books. She is an ideal hostess and a merry guest, but read she will so many hours in every twenty-four.

The Baroness Burdett-Coutts, now over ninety years old, is still in excellent health and maintains the wonderful pulse which has always been one of her leading characteristics. Like Gladstone, she is able to sleep almost at will and declares that in all her long life she has never lost even part of a night's sleep.

CHURCH AND CLERGY.

Dr. N. D. Hillis of Brooklyn has canceled all lecture engagements for the year and will be accompanied by Dr. Dawson of London on an evangelistic tour.

Abbot Francis Gasquet, who was much talked of after the death of Cardinal Vaughan as his successor, is about to leave England and take up his residence in Rome.

Bishop Brent of Manila is credited with this remark: "The Methodists raise the people out of the mud, the Baptists wash them, the Congregationalists iron them and the Episcopalians starch them."

A Smith graduate is to succeed the Rev. S. C. Beane, resigned, as pastor of the Unitarian Church of Our Father in Rutherford, N. J. She is the eloquent Rev. Elizabeth Padgugam of Perry, Ia. She was graduated from Smith in 1898 and from the Theological seminary at Meadville, Pa., two years later.

TRADE AND INDUSTRY.

Russia has a per capita investment in industrial enterprises of $4, while the United States has $125.

It is estimated that there were 200,000 bushels of seed oats taken from the natural bed off Bridgeport, Conn., the past season, valued at over $217,000, the best catch in five years.

South Africa is to enter the paper making world, it having been found that a kind of grass which grows there makes an excellent grade of paper. British manufacturers are already putting up mills there.

One hundred thousand sheep will be prepared for the market this winter at the beet sugar factories in the vicinity of Eaton, Greeley, Windsor, Longmont, Fort Collins and Loveland, Colo. The beet pulp makes the best of feed for lambs.

TRAIN AND TRACK.

The Colorado and Southern railroad will use automobile cars for inspection purposes.

The railway car builders of the United States have orders, recently placed, for 20,000 cars.

New electric street cars controlled by Dames run at a fast pace over an eleven mile route in and about Bangkok.

Electric railways are getting to be the fashion in Japan. Tokyo has them in abundance, and now Osaka, the commercial center of Japan, is preparing to follow suit.

TOWN TOPICS.

The town hall of Oldtown, Me., was recently sold on execution to satisfy a judgment of $350 against the town.

On the walls in the selectmen's room in the town hall in Sanbornville, N. H., hang two relics of the town, two check lists, one of the date of 1823, the other of 1852.

Every man, woman and child in Edgebrook, Ill., goes to church Sundays. It is the greatest churchgoing community in the world. There is no adult too old or child too young to attend divine worship. It has but one church, a little frame structure, but it is filled at every service.

RUSSIA.

When you come right down to it, all the zombies really ask is that the government of Russia be put on a plane where the people can respect it.—Indianapolis News.

If Russia finally triumphs it will mean an absorption by that absolute establishment of tremendous trade relations that have been built up for fifty years by other nations and governments.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Tonic for Old People

Adds Years to Life, Puts Life into Years—Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food, the Great Blood and Flesh Maker, Brain and Nerve Tonic

Keeps you from growing old by keeping up your vital forces. When the human machinery begins to wear out, people grow old and go into decline and decay, the blood becomes thin and watery, the circulation poor, and the nerve forces shattered and weak, showing that certain essential elements of life are being exhausted from the blood and nerves. The exhaustion usually begins with cold and numb hands and feet. The stomach, bowels and bladder lose their power, often becoming paralyzed. You grow weak and feeble and your vital forces so low that you begin to see that your health is being undermined. Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food increases the action of the heart and the circulation of the blood, and builds up the system by replacing the same substances to the blood and nerves that have been worn out. Price 50 cents. Weigh yourself before taking it. Book free.

Sold and guaranteed by E. A. Drown.

SPORTING NOTES.

Cy Young, the big Boston pitcher, is a Cleveland, visiting friend. He will remain for a few days, says the Plain Dealer. As usual he is the picture of wealth and says he sees no reason why he should not do just as well next season. Naturally, he is in favor of allowing the pitchers to do just as they are now, leaving the foul strike rule in vogue. While a little over weight the great old pitcher shows that he is taking care of himself and that he will be able to get into shape next spring without much effort.

Ike O'Neill Weir, the Belfast Spider, has been engaged by the Boston Americans as a "traber," and will go South with the players in March. This is the first time a Boston club has made arrangements to have a man take care of the players after their exercise on the field. Several other clubs have a regular rubber always under contract, and the players claim it is a fine thing for the arms and legs.

Bobby Walthour has leased bowling alleys in Atlanta, and during his temporary retirement from the bicycle path will give his attention to the management of the same. The lease gives the bicycle champion the option of buying a half interest in the alleys at the expiration of a year, in the event he cares to engage in the business permanently. Walthour is a good bowler himself, usually making an average of about 170 or 180. The management of the bowling alley will in no way interfere with Bobby's plan to attend the bicyclists' meeting at Boston next month, when a new cycling association will be perfected.

The Rev. Alexis C. Jeffries, father of the champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, has sailed for Auckland and Sydney, to preach the gospel to the benighted inhabitants of the antipodes. He is accompanied by the Rev. James Suter, Mrs. Suter and Deacon John Crow, all of the Christian or Church of Disciples. Jeffries and the other men of the party are distinguished by their hirsute growth. Their beards are notably long and ministerial. The Rev. Mr. Jeffries does not care to outline his programme other than to say he and his associates are bound for the colonies on missionary work.

The First Guidebook.

The earliest known predecessor of Baedeker was an Italian named Girardot, who published a Latin guidebook in 1565 for all who wanted to "make a trip on horseback, on foot, by ship or wagon."

A Shakespeare Bible.

A Bible said to have been the property of William Shakespeare, dated 1613, and being an imprint of the second edition of the King James version, was sold at auction in London for $1,000. The book contains two signatures of Shakespeare.

The Highland Dress.

The Icelandic sagas contain the earliest allusion to the distinctive character of the highland dress. They relate how Magnus Olafson, king of Norway, and his followers, when they returned from ravaging the west coast of Scotland, went about barelegged, having short kilts and upper wraps, and so men called him "Barelegs." This was in 1065.
